ACMS Events

Spring Speaker Series

The American Center for Mongolian Studies (ACMS) invites members of the public to attend a special Speaker Series lecture given by Michael Kohn on July 9th at 5 pm in Room 305 of Building No. 5 at the National University of Mongolia. Michael Kohn spent three years working at the Mongol Messenger in the late 1990s, an experience told in his new book Dateline Mongolia. Michael will discuss the book, recalling his experiences from that period and explaining how the early years of Mongolia's democracy will affect its domestic and foreign policy for generations to come. Michael will be on hand to answer questions and sign copies of his new book.

--The ACMS is located in Building No. 5 of the National University of Mongolia, which is the six floor, yellow building just northwest of the Chinese Embassy and across the street from Zaluuchuud Hotel on the Baga Toiruu.

Naadam Schedule

The ACMS will be closed for the Naadam holiday from July 6th-July 15th, with the exception of July 9th from 5 pm to 7 pm for the Speaker Series lecture. If you are traveling to Mongolia during this time and require assistance from the ACMS, please contact Resident Director Brian White at either bwhite@mongoliacenter.org or (976) 9973-9869. The ACMS will reopen on July 16th at 9 am.

Institute for Advanced Study, School of Historical Studies
Academic Year 2008-2009

DEADLINE: NOVEMBER 15, 2007

The Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton University invites applications from scholars in Central Asian Studies and other fields of historical research to conduct intellectual inquiry, without the obligations and distractions associated with the teaching of undergraduates. Scholars from around the world come to the Institute to pursue their own research. Candidates of any nationality may apply for a single term or a full academic year. Residence in Princeton during term time is required. A Ph.D. (or equivalent) and substantial publications are also required. Information and application forms may be found on the School's website, www.hs.ias.edu, or contact the School of Historical Studies, Institute for Advanced Study, Einstein Dr., Princeton, N.J. 08540 (E-mail address: mzelazny@ias.edu).

'Networks and Boundaries'
Getty Research Institute

DEADLINE: NOVEMBER 1, 2007

The Getty Research Institute welcomes applications from researchers in the arts, humanities, and social sciences who wish to be in residence at the Institute in 2008-2009 and whose projects explore cross-cultural exchange and the visual arts. Scholars who apply for the 2008-2009 academic year will research topics centered around the "Networks and Boundaries" research theme. The study of the visual arts can and does cross cultural, civilizational, ethnic, religious, and geographic boundaries. Applications and more information can be found at http://www.getty.edu/research/scholarly\_activities/annual\_themes/future\_networks.html.

"Pages from the Past: The 1910 Moscow Trade Expedition to Mongolia"
Translated and introduced by Elizabeth Endicott

"Pages from the Past: The 1910 Moscow Trade Expedition to Mongolia", translated from the Russian and introduced by Elizabeth Endicott, has been published by EastBridge Books. Traveling throughout northern and western Mongolia in the summer of 1910, the expedition members gathered a wealth of information on trade routes, trading centers, the perceived threat to Russian trade posed by Chinese mercantile competition, and the daily lives of the Mongols themselves. The Moscow Trade Expedition merchants' field diaries provide minutely detailed accounts of the Mongolian countryside, Buddhist ceremonies, and interactions with nomadic households. The book is accompanied by 33 black and white photographs taken by the 1910 Expedition. Elizabeth Endicott teaches East Asian and Central Eurasian history at Middlebury College. To order visit eastbridgebooks.org. ISBN 1-59988-002-4.
